Zip ending in F1

The image shows two technical drawings of women's shorts. The left drawing is a front view, and the right drawing is a back view. Both drawings show a waistband with belt loops. The front view includes a fly and a side pocket. Fabric labels F1 and F2 are placed on the drawings to indicate different fabric areas. F1 is used for the waistband, the main body of the shorts, and the side pocket. F2 is used for the side seam area and the fly. A callout line points to the zipper on the side seam, stating 'Zip ending in F1'. The back view shows a simple waistband and a central seam. The fabric label F1 is used for the waistband and the main body, while F2 is used for the side seam area.
